

PAUL M. MÜLLER

SEIT 1956

PRESS RELEASE

A company with traditional values and modern visions

OBERHACHING, October 2023

You have to go back a few years to delve deep into the company history of Paul M. Müller from Oberhaching. It was the 1950s when the company entered the wholesale food trade. The founders imported ham from the former Yugoslavia. Reliably, on time, in the best quality.

What was already a matter of course for Paul M. Müller back then has not changed to this day. Whether it's tomatoes or tuna - there's no such thing as can't. The best proof: satisfied customers from the retail and wholesale trade as well as the processing food industry, with whom the company works closely and trustfully. Broad expertise in procurement, quality, logistics and marketing distinguish Paul M. Müller.

Loyalty, honesty, fairness - these are the values that company owner and managing director Thomas Schneidawind cultivates with his team every day. For him, an exchange at eye level is important. The cooperation with partners is close - in order to meet the wishes and needs of forwarders, customers and suppliers.

Direct deliveries are possible by (rail) truck and shipping container, as well as free delivery for orders of five pallets or more. All this is possible thanks to reliable transport partners and the 31,000 sqm central warehouse in the port of Hamburg with approx. 100,000 pallet spaces.

Large parts of the goods come from Italy, but Paul M. Müller also imports from countries such as Turkey and Thailand - also in the form of its own brands.
