Mariner Biscuits® are a modern adaptation of "Pilot Bread" or Hard tack", an ancient solution used by sailors for conserving bread during long ocean voyages in a natural way. They were introduced in America on the different voyages made by ship and became part of the normal diet of many of those countries.

Mariner Biscuits® is a long-lasting food with a neutral taste and are extremely resistant to moisture, which means they do not grow soft over time. For this reason they are especially useful for preparing canapés with sweet or savoury ingredients.
